“ My work is about the power, the beauty and the fragility of the landscape. ”

— JOY MOORE

BIOGRAPHY — 01

Joy Moore is an English painter. Her work is rooted in nature and in the English tradition of landscape painting, above all J. M. W. Turner: it is about the power, the beauty and the fragility of the landscape, and what it feels like to be inside it.

TRAINING — 02

She studied fine art at the art colleges of Bristol and Birmingham, graduating in 1978 with the Dame Louisa Ryland scholarship.

PIEDMONT — 03

She has lived in Piedmont since 2006. Since then her inspiration has come from the Piedmont landscape and the Italian mountains. She works in her studio in Cocconato, in Monferrato.

EXHIBITIONS — 04

She has exhibited across Italy, in other European countries and in the United States; in 2026, at the Milan Biennale and at Bergamo Arte Fiera.

FOR MONFERRARTE — 05

The hills of Monferrato and the mountains.

For MonferrArte she presents thirteen paintings: seven Monferrato landscapes and six mountains, from the Dolomites to Mont Blanc and Monviso, in acrylic, ink and mixed media.
